FULFILLMENT

Seagull fulfillment services make your operations more scalable and allow you to focus your efforts on sales and marketing.

We can handle any of your fulfillment and distribution needs. We are equipped to handle end to end services including pick and pack, labeling and product fulfillment.

Either send us your products or have us pick them up and we will pick and pack, package, label and ship them for you.

Our fulfillment capabilities include product sample, literature, promotional and custom fulfillment.

Product Samples

Distributing samples of your product to your customers is a great way to increase sales.

Seagull can provide your company with more efficient, easier to manage, faster and less costly product sample fulfillment. We have the experience in, fulfillment distribution and order management technology to handle both the simple and complex sample fulfillment programs.

Literature Fulfillment

Getting your up-to-date sales literature or training materials delivered in a timely manner is a difficult task. Some companies often find they don't have the expertise, space or personnel to handle these processes efficiently.

Seagull Industries bridges the gap between marketing and sales by getting your most recent literature to your audience quickly and proficiently.

We receive and store your materials before hand and then process orders, perform any kit assembly required, and ship them quickly.

Promotional Fulfillment

Seagull can save you time and capital associated with this monotonous and time consuming job. We provide you with complete, end-to-end execution of your promotional fulfillment needs from warehousing the promo items to kitting and delivering them to the end user.

INVENTORY MANAGEMENT

Our goal is to effectively manage your inventory in a way that minimizes carrying costs, maximizes order flow, reduces waste and increases customer satisfaction.

Our inventory management technology is integrated seamlessly with our fulfillment warehouse and it also supports our inventory workflow services from inventory planning to warehouse management.
